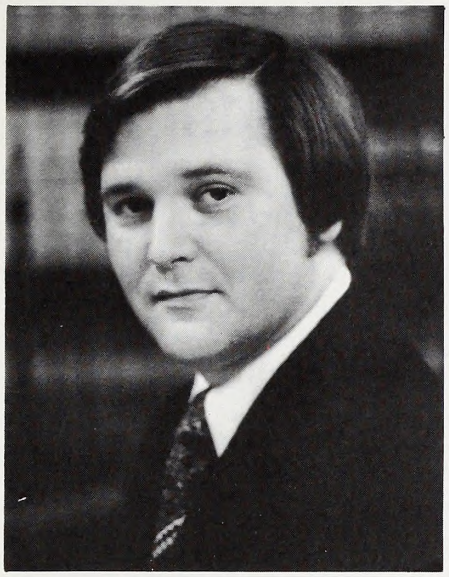
ANNUAL REPORT — JANUARY-DECEMBER 1976



RUFUS L. EDMISTEN
Attorney General
State of North Carolina

FOREWORD

As the Attorney General of North Carolina, I am exposed to a great deal of information about various types of crime and concepts of punishment, rehabilitation and trial theory but as a citizen of North Carolina I too have become apprehensive about the level of crime and violence that surrounds us all. The news media reports daily on the latest brutal slaying, a malicious assault, the flim-flam of a local citizen, or the robbery of a local grocery. However, due to a lack of truly reflective criminal statistics, neither members of the public nor criminal justice officials have been able to understand the nature of crime or the real level of criminal activity throughout the entire state.

Since 1973 a Statewide Uniform Crime Reporting Program has been operational in North Carolina. This program is administered by the Police Information Network, a division of the North Carolina Department of Justice, which has a functioning computer system and excellent rapport with the State's local law enforcement agencies.

With the program only four years old, we have attained a high degree of cooperation from local law enforcement officials. I am extremely pleased with the voluntary efforts made to sustain a sound Uniform Crime Reporting System. As a result, this annual report has been compiled and is, in my opinion, a testimonial to the progressive outlook of North Carolina law enforcement officials and their desire to achieve an even higher degree of professionalism.

It is my sincerest hopes that by public awareness of the overall level of crime action may be taken on a local level to curtail the rise of crime. Of the seven index crimes, six reflected decreases over 1975. Violent crimes as a group decreased over seven percent. Larceny was the only index crime to reflect an increase over 1975. Crimes of larceny rose thirteen percent over 1975 and due to the volume of larceny alone the total volume of reported crime rose four percent. These statistics reflect the efforts that have been made by criminal justice officials and citizens alike to stop crime. Utilizing the information contained on this publication and working together we may be able to finally come to grips with crime as a social problem.

We are proud to be among those States operating a Statewise Uniform Crime Reporting Program. I have committed the Police Information Network to continue its cooperative efforts with local law enforcement agencies and to continue the development of the Uniform Crime Reporting Program thereby improving the processes of the Criminal Justice System in North Carolina.

Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

As a Law Enforcement Officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of the police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.

HOWARD M. LIVINGSTON
Director
Police Information Network

Since 1973 law enforcement agencies throughout North Carolina have voluntarily submitted information on crimes committed in their areas of responsibility to the Police Information Network (PIN). The information and statistics presented in this report is an assessment of the statewide crime problem and was compiled from the monthly Uniform Crime Reports (UCR) submitted to PIN by North Carolina Law Enforcement Agencies for the year 1976. For this reason it is appropriate that this annual report be dedicated to you, the law enforcement officers and public officials whose diligence, interest, and co-operation has allowed for the successful operation of the North Carolina UCR Program.

This year I am delighted that the Police Information Network has been able to open new doors in the publication of this report. For the first time since our initial report of 1973, arrest data has been chronicled in this issue thus enabling all law enforcement officials to clearly define the problem areas and the age groups associated with each area.

The staff of the Police Information Network has verified the data in this publication for accuracy and completeness to the best of their ability. I sincerely hope that this publication will prove useful in attempting to curtail the serious problem of crime in our state.

I would like to personally extend my thanks to all of those law enforcement officials whose participation in the Uniform Crime Reporting Program make this publication a reality.

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to all law enforcement officers and in particularly to those law enforcement officers who lost their lives in the performance of duty while endeavoring to uphold the laws and serving the citizens of North Carolina in the interest of all mankind. The following men gave their lives to this cause in 1976 on the dates specified.

CRIME FACTORS

There are inherent limitations in current crime reporting practices. Of primary importance is the question of how much crime is being reported. Law enforcement agencies are only capable of reporting crimes known to them. In many instances, citizens do not report crimes directly to these agencies but may report them to the prosecuting authorities. A considerable volume of crime is not reported to law enforcement agencies because the victims may consider the offenses against them to be of very little consequence; they believe there is nothing the police can do about them; they fear retaliation from offenders or have shared willingly in such offenses as illegal sex acts, gambling or drug usage. Consequently, information concerning some offenses is never entered in the present statistical reporting system. A national survey conducted for the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice indicates that half the victimizations are not reported to law enforcement authorities.

The information collected for this report is the most accurate crime information currently available in North Carolina. Caution should be exercised, however, in making direct comparisons of crime and arrest data reported by different law enforcement jurisdictions. Likewise, when comparing offense and arrest data, the reader should keep in mind that crimes relate to events while arrests relate to persons. A single criminal act may involve several crimes, several offenders, and several victims.

Set forth below are some additional conditions which will, by type and volume, affect the crime that occurs from place to place. These same conditions will also affect the amount of crime actually reported.

1. Density and size of the community population and metropolitan areas of which it is a part.
2. Composition of the population with reference particularly to age, sex, and race.
3. Economic status and mores of the population.
4. Relative stability of population including commuters, seasonal, and other transient types.
5. Climate, including seasonal weather conditions.
6. Educational, recreational, and religious characteristics.
7. EFFECTIVE STRENGTH OF THE POLICE FORCE.
8. STANDARDS GOVERNING APPOINTMENT TO THE POLICE FORCE.
9. POLICIES OF THE PROSECUTING OFFICIALS AND THE COURTS.
10. ATTITUDE OF THE PUBLIC TOWARDS LAW AND ENFORCEMENT PROBLEMS.
11. THE ADMINISTRATIVE AND INVESTIGATIVE EFFICIENCY OF THE LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY INCLUDING THE DEGREE OF ADHERENCE TO CRIME STANDARDS.

Current methods of gathering and reporting offense and arrest data, because they are influenced by many variables, provide a less than complete picture of criminality in our society. However, despite these shortcomings, there is at present no other information system available that will more adequately perform this task.

NORTH CAROLINA UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING PROGRAM

THE NORTH CAROLINA UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING PROGRAM

INTRODUCTION

In the last several years the FBI has actively encouraged individual states to develop statewide programs of law enforcement statistics compatible with the national UCR program. These statistical programs have been given impetus by the development of statewide computerized criminal justice information systems, (PIN), of which Uniform Crime Reporting is an integral part.

North Carolina was one of the first states to develop its own statewide program of law enforcement statistics, the North Carolina Uniform Crime Reporting Program.

In January 1973, the Police Information Network, a division of the North Carolina Department of Justice, initially began the collection of monthly Uniform Crime reports from county and municipal law enforcement agencies.

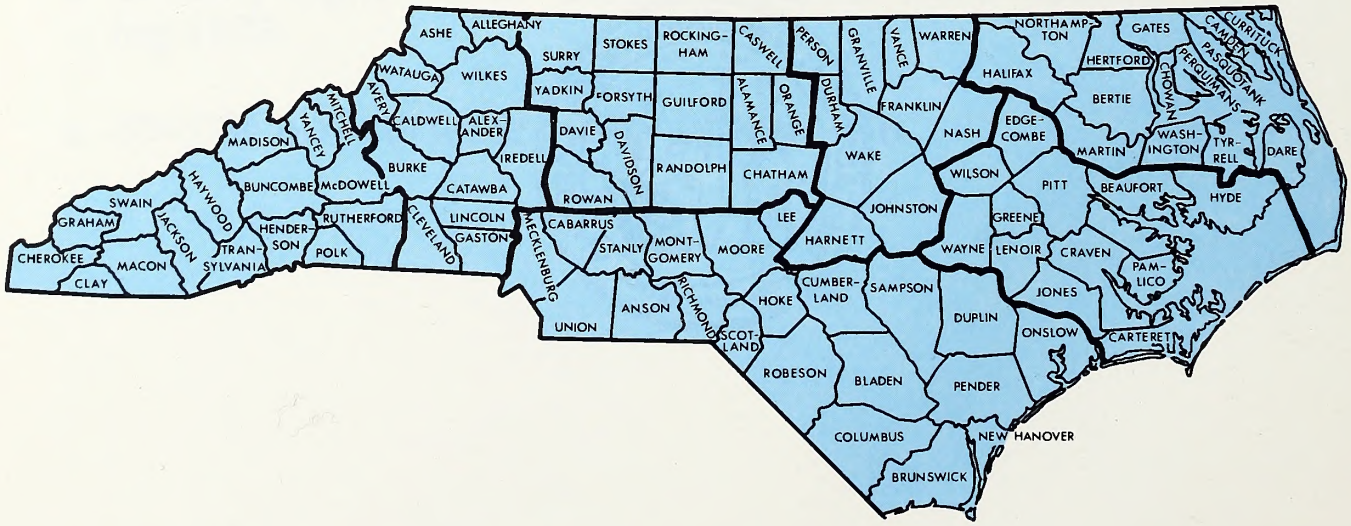
This document is the fourth annual report, presenting statistical information collected and compiled through the year 1976.

FIELD REPRESENTATION

For Uniform Crime Reporting purposes the Police Information Network divides the State into eight (8) districts. Eight PIN Field Representatives are assigned to assist local agencies in many areas including record practices and crime reporting procedures. The difficult and important task of maintaining close liaison is obvious when it is realized that services now are extended by PIN, through its Field Representatives, to 430 law enforcement agencies of the State. Education of contributors to the program must be a constant operational requirement, if continued system adherence and valid statistics are to be expected.

As an adjunct to the program the Police Information Network offers internal records keeping system assistance to those agencies who request it. Assistance is rendered by the Field Representative who provides the necessary guidance and instruction. The personal contact of the Field Representative and the contributor not only serves as a rapid means to resolve areas of report error, but also provides the Field Representative the opportunity to work in other areas with which the Police Information Network is concerned.

UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING DISTRICTS



CONTRIBUTING AGENCIES AND POPULATION

There are currently an average of 367 law enforcement agencies throughout the State contributing monthly directly to the North Carolina Uniform Crime Reporting Program. Each month approximately 94 out of 100 county Sheriff's Departments and 268 out of 330 Police Departments participate.

In addition, State law enforcement agencies (North Carolina State Bureau of Investigation (SBI), North Carolina State Highway Patrol (SHP), North Carolina State Government Security Force (SGSF), Wildlife Protection Division and several Campus Police Departments submit data to the program. Uniform Crime reports received from these agencies represent statistical data covering approximately 96.15 percent of the estimated North Carolina population.

JANUARY 1, 1976 - DECEMBER 31, 1976

	Total	Police	Sheriff	SHP	SGSF	SBI	Wildlife	Campus PD's	Pop. Cov.
January	372	274	93	1	1	1	1	1	95.33%
February	369	269	95	1	1	1	1	1	96.15%
March	371	271	95	1	1	1	1	1	96.96%
April	368	267	96	1	1	1	1	1	96.87%
May	367	267	95	1	1	1	1	1	96.45%
June	365	266	94	1	1	1	1	1	96.11%
July	371	271	95	1	1	1	1	1	97.23%
August	363	264	94	1	1	1	1	1	95.49%
September	367	268	94	1	1	1	1	1	95.62%
October	368	267	95	1	1	1	1	2	96.22%
November	365	266	93	1	1	1	1	2	95.82%
December	365	266	93	1	1	1	1	2	95.51%
Average	367	268	94	1	1	1	1	1	96.15%

The above table sets forth the number of agencies by type that have participated in the North Carolina Uniform Crime Reporting Program through December 1976. The State Highway Patrol, Wildlife and State Bureau of Investigation are each counted as one agency even though: A) a monthly report is received from the State Highway Patrol and Wildlife reflecting activity in each county and B) a monthly report is received from each Special Agent of the State Bureau of Investigation.

REPORTING PROCEDURE

In the statewide Uniform Crime Reporting Program contributing law enforcement agencies are wholly responsible for compiling their own crime reports and submitting them to the Police Information Network. The Police Information Network in an effort to maintain quality and uniformity in the data received furnishes full-time field representatives who provide training in Uniform Crime Reporting procedures. All contributors also are furnished with the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook which outlines in detail procedures for scoring and classifying offenses. The Handbook illustrates and discusses the monthly and annual reporting forms as well as the numerous tally sheets made available to facilitate the periodic tabulation of desired data.

A centralized record system is necessary to the sound operation of any law enforcement agency. The record system is an essential basis for crime reporting by the agency. Upon request the Police Information Network makes internal records forms and technical assistance available at no cost to any law enforcement agency. This provides for the establishment or modification of a basic non-automated police records system.

On a monthly basis, law enforcement agencies (police, sheriffs, Highway Patrol, and State Bureau of Investigation) report the number of offenses that became known to them during the month in the following crime categories: murder and non-negligent manslaughter, manslaughter by negligence, forcible rape, robbery, assault, burglary, larceny, and motor vehicle theft. This count is taken from a record of all complaints of crime received by the law enforcement agency from victims, other sources, and/or discovered by officers. Whenever complaints of crime are determined through investigation to be unfounded or false, they are eliminated from the actual count. The number of "actual offenses known" in these crime categories is reported to PIN without regard to 1) whether anyone is arrested for the crime; 2) stolen property recovered; 3) the local prosecutive policy; or 4) any other restrictive consideration. Law enforcement agencies on a monthly basis report the total number of these reported crimes which they clear either by arrest or exceptional means. A separate count of crimes cleared which involve only persons under the age of 18 is shown. The number of law enforcement officers killed and assaulted and the value of property stolen and recovered during the month are reported. Arrests are reported for all criminal acts, except traffic violations, by crime category including the age, sex, and race of each person arrested. Supplementary information concerning pertinent data surrounding homicides is reported.

On an annual basis a report is submitted by each contributor concerning the number of persons formally charged by crime classification and the disposition of such charges. Law enforcement employee data specifically encompasses the number of sworn and other personnel and is collected annually.

VERIFICATION PROCEDURES

An obvious concern in the collection of crime statistics is the validity and uniformity of the data received. With the receipt of monthly reports covering approximately 350 jurisdictions, prepared on a voluntary basis, the problems of attaining uniformity are readily apparent. Issuance of instructions does not complete the role of the Police Information Network. On the contrary, it is standard operating procedure to examine each incoming report not only for arithmetical accuracy but also, and possibly of even more importance, for reasonableness as a possible indication of errors.

Numerous checks and cross checks are used to insure the accuracy of the reports. Errors of a minor nature are corrected by the UCR report verifiers without contacting the contributor. Necessary arithmetical adjustments or unusual variations are noted by the UCR verifiers and brought to the attention of the submitting agency by direct contact through a PIN field representative. Upon resubmission to PIN of a corrected return from a field representative, the forms are re-verified. Upon completion of all individual form verification processes summary statistics in various forms are derived.

A great deal of the success of North Carolina's UCR Program to this point has largely been due to the full time field staff assigned to assist local agencies in record practices and crime reporting procedures. Personal contact is invaluable to the accuracy and uniformity of UCR data received.

STATISTICAL FEEDBACK

A particularly important aim of North Carolina's UCR Program is statistical "Feedback" to contributors. Data will be analyzed and returned to the contributor on a statewide level with the annual report. The contributors will then possess detailed information showing crime trends within their jurisdiction, comparisons with departments of similar size, comparisons with departments whose jurisdictions represent a similar population density, etc. In addition to a published report, statistical information will be made available in the form of periodic trend releases. The Police Information Network is planning the further automation of UCR with the intention of providing regular monthly statistical reports to contributors. This will provide for timely response to statistical requests.

Data collected will be forwarded by the Police Information Network to the Federal Bureau of Investigation on a monthly and annual basis. This is for inclusion in national crime reports.

LIMITATIONS OF A UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING PROGRAM

Information currently collected by the North Carolina Program is generally the same as that gathered by the national system, and the methods of classifying and scoring offenses and arrests are the same. This readily enables comparisons with other states and the Nation, but the information gaps present in the national program are also inherent in North Carolina's system.

Development of the current nationwide Uniform Crime Reporting Program began more than forty years ago. In 1930, crime counts were first requested from local police departments, with the Federal Bureau of Investigation designated by Congress to collect, compile, and analyze these statistics. The Committee on Uniform Crime Records of the International Association of Chiefs of Police played a primary role in the origin and development of the UCR Program and, to this day, serves in a strong advisory capacity. Standardized offense classifications and scoring procedures to insure uniformity and consistency of data are the keynote of the reports. All of the Uniform Crime Reports have been designed so that they are a by-product of information that a law enforcement agency should routinely compile for its own efficient administration and performance. The underlying philosophy and focus is and always has been oriented toward police statistics for use by law enforcement agencies, but the unique nature of the program makes the data invaluable for use by elected officials and the American public.

The Uniform Crime Reporting Program has been subject to much criticism during its history and, while many of these commentaries have been valid, at least some of the shortcomings are understandable when it is remembered that the program has been developed to furnish management information for use primarily by law enforcement agencies. The Uniform Crime Reports are not a court or corrections statistical program. They are not designed to furnish an overview of the workings of our entire criminal justice system, nor are they able to give the complete picture of law enforcement activity. The main goal of the UCR Program is to furnish police administrators with a measure of their activities and operational problems as indicated by the number of reported offenses, arrests, clearances, and the like.

Therefore, much of the criticism of the UCR Program itself is weakened when its stated primary purpose is kept in mind. Uniform Crime Reports data are the best crime information currently available since they reflect the key events (criminal offenses) that set in motion the various phases of our criminal justice process. The number of arrests, prosecutions, or convictions, while capable of more precise measurement, nevertheless is less indicative of the amount and nature of crime because such data is further removed from the original event. But, because the Uniform Crime Reporting Program is the only recurring crime and arrest reporting program operating on a national level, of necessity it serves as the base for assessing the many significant information gaps at the input end of the criminal justice system.

A first step in the control of crime is to ascertain the true dimensions of the problem. However, present statistics as gathered by the UCR Program measure neither the real incidence of crime nor the full amount of economic loss to victims. Information regarding number of offenses and clearances is collected only for the seven Part I crimes. Value and type of property stolen and recovered data is requested only for property stolen in Part I offenses. For the Part II offenses (except non-aggravated assault), the only information submitted is the number of arrests for these crimes according to the age, sex, and race of the subject. Consequently, there is no record of the actual number of these offenses occurring, nor is there a calculation made for property loss, as in cases of arson, vandalism, and embezzlement.

Moreover, in recent years the Uniform Crime Reporting system has taken no account of the price inflation so prevalent in our economy. During 1972, one of the seven Index offenses was larceny $50 and over in value and, between the two years 1960 and 1970, the number of these major thefts nationwide displayed a greater percentage increase than did any other Index crime. Furthermore, the numerical increase in these thefts between 1960 and 1970 amounted to 35 percent of the total increase in the level of Index crimes between the two years. But, at least a portion of these additional thefts may be accounted for by the fact that, during a period of rising prices, there are simply more articles above $50 in value in the possession of our population and subject to the risk of theft. This particular limitation of the Crime Index no longer exists, as in 1973 larceny $50 and over was replaced with total larceny as an Index offense.

The Crime Index does not explicitly take into account the varying degrees of seriousness of its seven components. Each crime receives the same weight as it is added to the Index. Consequently, an auto theft is counted the same as a murder, and an aggravated assault is weighted equally with an attempted burglary. Any review of crime must consider the volume, rate, and trend of each offense that comprises the Index and the relationship between these seven crimes.

The North Carolina and national Uniform Crime Reporting Programs are designed to measure offenses committed and persons arrested, and difficulty can arise if this distinction is not kept firmly in mind. Crimes relate to events, but arrests relate to persons. Unlike traffic violations where there is usually one event, with one violation and one offender, a single criminal act can involve several crimes, several offenders, and several victims. Relating specific crimes to the criminal, or specific offenses to characteristics of those arrested, is generally beyond the scope of the present Uniform Crime Reporting system.

Clearance rates reflect the proportion of criminal acts that are solved. However, the arrest, charging, and turning over to a court for prosecution, of only one of several offenders involved in a given crime is sufficient for a clearance to be scored. Therefore, clearance rates cannot be viewed as indicating the true degree of criminal apprehension.

Juvenile crime and arrest statistics are also open to question. Many juvenile offenders are handled informally and, as a consequence, inaccurate or incomplete recording of the event or action may result. Procedures for handling juveniles vary between departments much more so than in the case of adult offenders. Furthermore, the degree of juvenile involvement in solved offenses is probably seriously understood because juvenile participation in clearances is recorded only when juveniles are exclusively involved. When both adults and juveniles are subjects in a clearance, the juvenile participation is not reported.

Superficial conclusions are sometimes drawn from the UCR crime and arrest data, in particular when attempting to make comparisons between jurisdictions, because all factors that have an impact on crime problems are not measured or explicitly considered by this program. Municipal ordinances, local criminal justice administrative policies, efficiency and thoroughness of record keeping, and Uniform Crime Reporting proficiency and practices all affect the amount of crime and arrests reported. Furthermore, socio-economic conditions and the characteristics and attitudes of the local population influence the magnitude and nature of criminal behavior in a community.

The preceding comments should not be viewed as an indictment of the Uniform Crime Reporting Program which, admittedly, is designed for the operational requirements of law enforcement agencies. While current methods of gathering and reporting crime and arrest data provide a less than complete picture of criminality in our society, there is at present no other information system in general use that will more adequately perform this task. Many of the same criticisms may be equally applied to existing court and penal statistical information systems. For, in actuality, consistent data is not available with which to accurately assess the operation and problems of our criminal justice system. Deficiencies in information are apparent: the passage of time cannot be accounted for, and hence the degree of economy and swift justice cannot be measured; the true degree of recidivism, or recurring criminal behavior, cannot be measured. Lacking data concerning dispositions at various levels of the criminal justice system, or the number of subjects passed through succeeding legal statuses, the efficiency of the process cannot be realistically evaluated. However, these information gaps will never be surmounted if we continue to view our "police", "judicial", and "correctional" statistical information systems as independent from each other. What is required is a "criminal justice" information system, with the offender passing through the criminal justice process being the unit about which all data is gathered. The statewide Offender Based Transaction Statistics System (OBTS) currently being planned for by the Police Information Network, will help to surmount traditional information gaps.

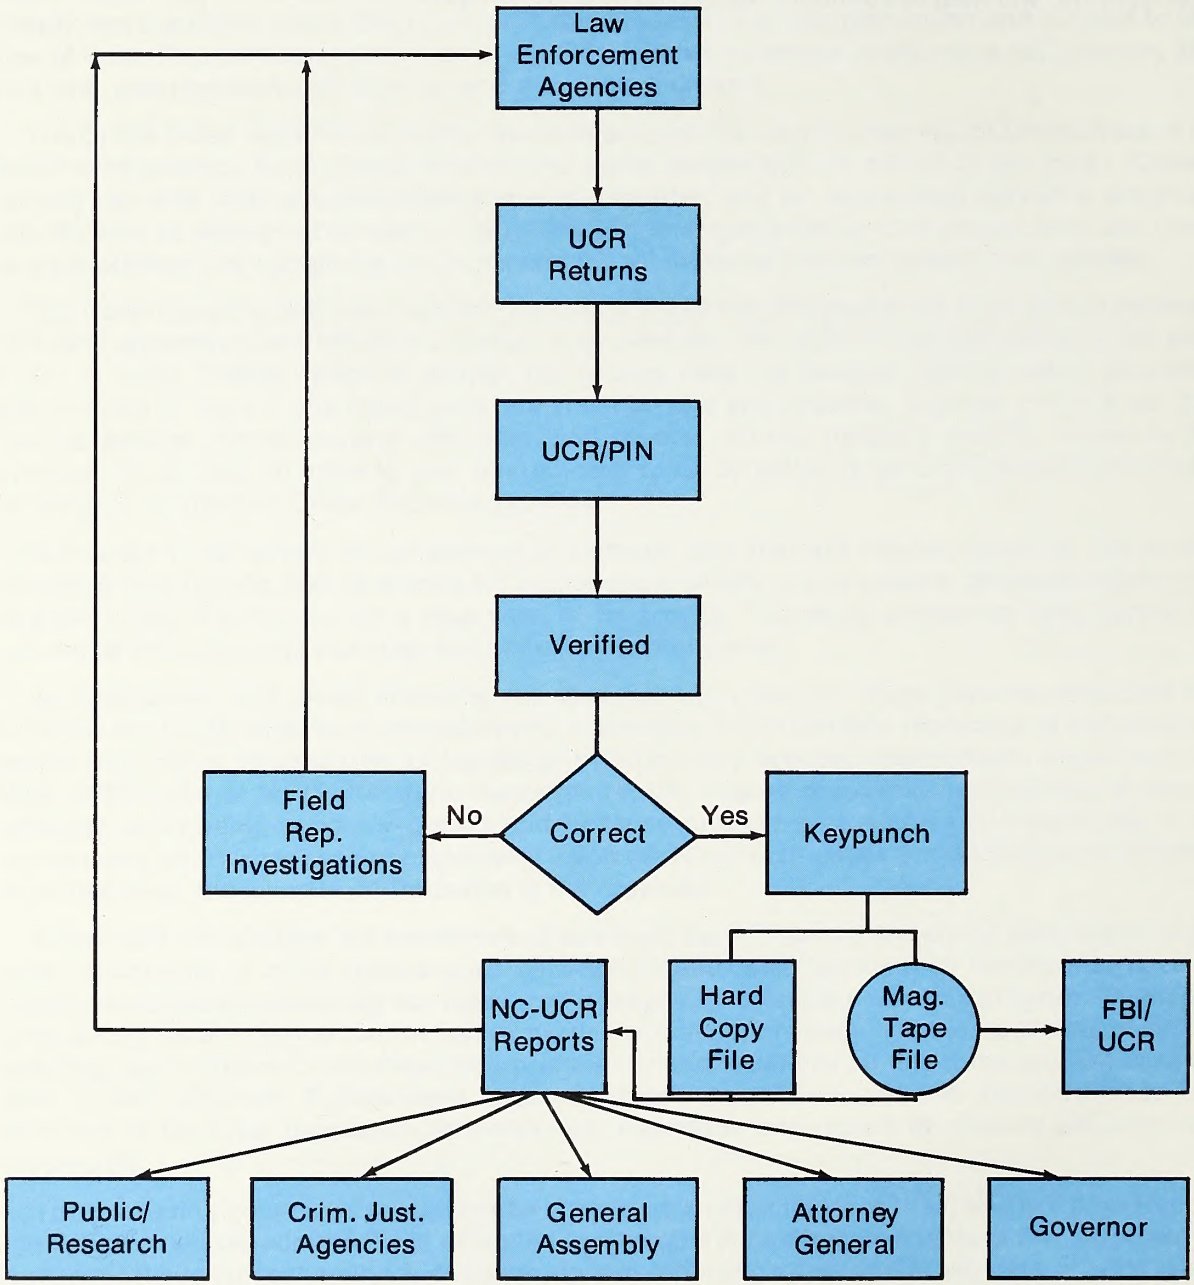
UCR SYSTEM FLOW

The North Carolina Police Information Network is pleased with the progress of the Uniform Crime Reporting Program to this point notwithstanding the fact that there are many challenges yet to be met. The UCR staff is working vigorously toward achieving a program of excellence in terms of the quality of data submitted; the population coverage represented, the jurisdiction coverage represented, and the value of meaningful statistical feedback and interpretation. To this end the UCR program is committed.



II
NORTH CAROLINA CRIME INDEX OFFENSES

THE INDEX OF CRIME

The crime index offense table can be used to indicate the probable extent, fluctuation, and distribution of crime for the State of North Carolina as a whole, geographic divisions, individual counties, individual cities and towns, and standard metropolitan statistical areas. The measure used is a Crime Index consisting of seven important offenses which are counted as they become known to the law enforcement agencies. Crime classifications used in the Index are: Murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary—breaking and entering, larceny and motor vehicle theft.

The total number of criminal acts that occur is unknown, but those that are reported to Law Enforcement provide the first means of a count. Not all crimes come readily to the attention of Law Enforcement; not all crimes are of sufficient importance to be significant in an index; and not all important crimes occur with enough regularity to be meaningful in an index. With these considerations in mind, the crimes below were selected as a group to furnish an abbreviated and convenient measure of the crime problem.

UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING INDEX OFFENSE DEFINITIONS

1. Murder — The willful killing of another.
2. Rape — The carnal knowledge of a female through the use of force or the threat of force.
3. Robbery — Occurs in the presence of the victim to obtain property or a thing of value from a person by use of force or threat of force.
4. Aggravated Assault — An unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe bodily injury.
5. Burglary — The unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or theft, even though no force was used to gain entry.
6. Larceny — The unlawful taking or stealing of property or articles of value without the use of force, violence or fraud.
7. Motor Vehicle Theft — The unlawful taking or stealing of a motor vehicle, including attempts.

MURDER

MURDER

The Crime Index offense of murder is defined as the willful killing of another. The classification in this offense, as in all other Crime Index offenses, is based solely on police investigation as opposed to the determination of a court, medical examiner, coroner, jury, or other judicial body.

In 1976, there were 598 murders reported in North Carolina. This figure represents a decrease of 12.44% from last year's 683 reported offenses. Of those 598 offenses, nine were justifiable or unfounded leaving 589 actual offenses of murder.

An analysis of murder by month in 1976, shows no particular season of the year that experienced the greatest frequency of occurrance.

Throughout the State, law enforcement agencies continue to be successful in clearing or solving by arrest a greater percentage of murders than any other Crime Index offense. In 1976, 90.83 percent of the murders were cleared.

MURDER

Murder is defined as the unlawful killing of a human being. Any death due to a fight, argument, quarrel, assault or commission of a crime is included. Traffic deaths, caused by the negligence of someone other than the victim are not included here but are counted under manslaughter. Attempts to kill and assaults to kill are scored as aggravated assaults and not as murder. Suicides, accidental deaths, and justifiable or excusable homicides are also excluded.

The law enforcement agencies which participate in Uniform Crime Reporting cooperate in providing additional information regarding homicide so that a more indepth analysis of this offense can be made. Through a supplemental reporting system, information is provided regarding the age, sex, and race of the victim; the weapon used in the murder; and the circumstances surrounding the offense. These tables reflect actual offenses as well as the victims of justifiable homicides.

As illustrated in the following table, the victims of murder during 1976 were male in approximately 8 out of 10 instances. Approximately 37 out of 100 murder victims were white, 61 were Negro, and 2 Indian. The largest number of murders occuring in any ten year age bracket was the 20 to 29 group which contained approximately 3 out of every ten murder victims.

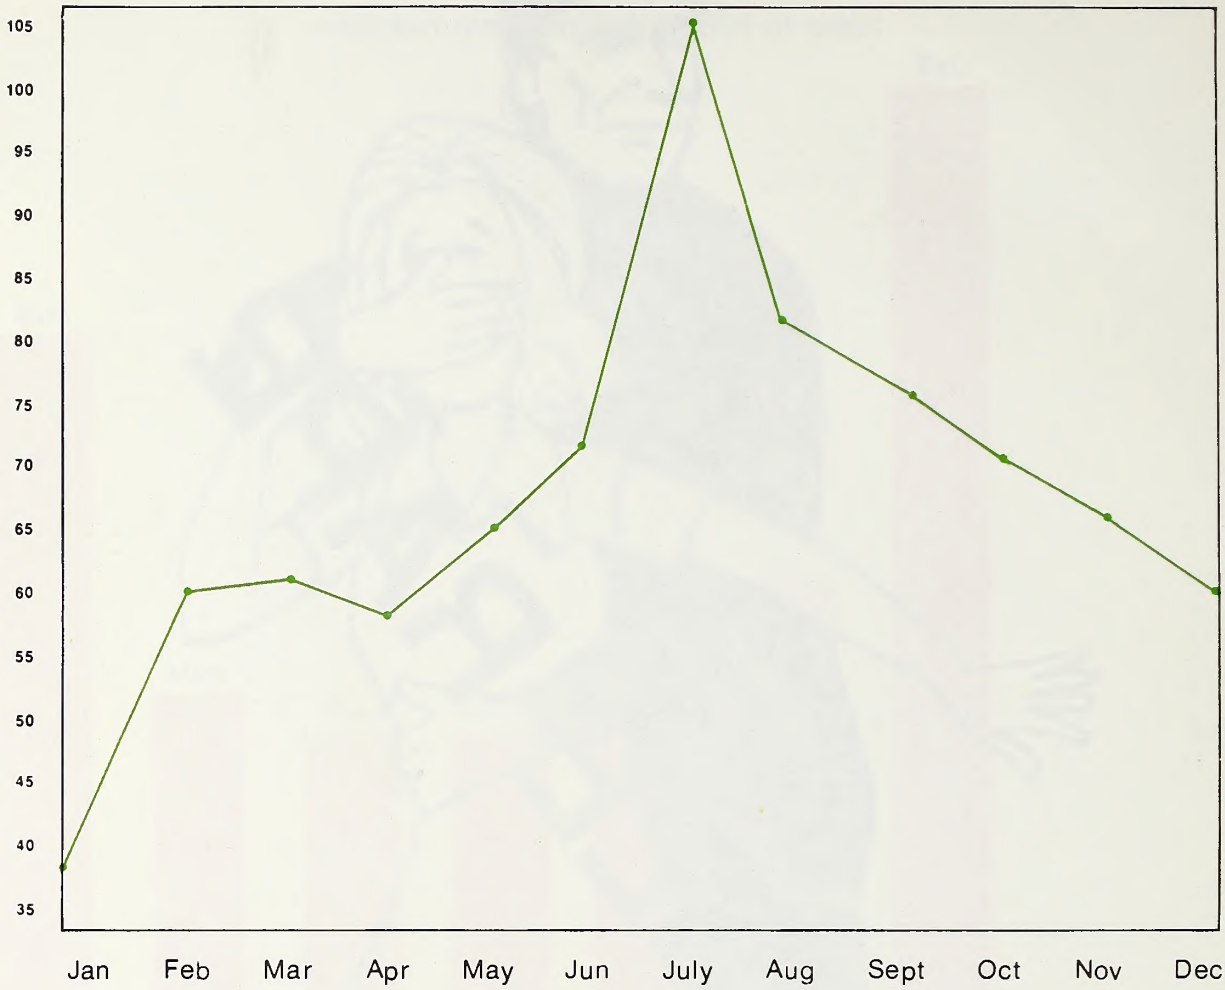
FORCIBLE RAPE

FORCIBLE RAPE



Forcible rape is defined as the carnal knowledge of a female through the use of force or the threat of force. Assaults to commit forcible rape are also included; however, statutory rape (without force) is counted in this category.

In 1976, there were 807 offenses of rape reported in North Carolina. This figure reflects a decrease of 5.3% from the reported 852 rapes of 1975.

The month to month variations of the occurrence of rape in 1976, show that the months of July, August and September have the greatest frequency of rape as compared to any other months of the year.

Of the total number of rapes reported in 1976, 69.4 percent were cleared by arrest or exceptional means.

RAPE AND THE LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER

As a law enforcement officer investigating the crime of rape, remember that the most important aspect of handling a rape victim is EXPLANATION. The victim of a rape is a walking crime scene. In order to attempt an apprehension of the offender as well as an eventual conviction, the full cooperation of the victim is necessary. If the victim is willing and able to cooperate, your job as a law enforcement officer will be easier. To obtain this cooperation, proper explanation is the one means of opening channels of communication. The victim of a rape has several basic needs. These needs are:

1. to have support
2. to understand what has happened
3. to ventilate
4. to understand what will happen next, (the interrogation, medical examination, court process etc.)

To help the victim fulfil these needs a law enforcement officer should have several goals. These goals are:

1. Show support by helping restore the victim's own self control, by explaining your role and by preparing her for upcoming events.
2. Reduce anxiety. (This can be done by offering a glass of water, food or cigarettes)
3. Help restore self control. (Explain the sequence of events)
4. Win trust. (Be a companion throughout the process of events)

As a law enforcement officer you should always:

1. show your own confident authority
2. show sympathy
3. show support for the victim
4. let her ventilate—but do not force her
5. prepare and predict—explain the sequence of events
6. do not judge the victim
7. let the victim make her own decision—lay out all the options
8. make sure she has transportation
9. follow up after the investigation so she is aware of the medical and legal steps to be taken

Explanation is the key to the proper investigation of a rape. Simple explanation creates an environment of trust and guidance, thus making the decision making process of the victim easier to deal with. Always establish rapport. This lays the foundation for mutual cooperation. The primary function of an officer is apprehension and conviction. To achieve this end result, proper interview techniques should be utilized as well as the proper collection of needed evidence and the establishment of a good chain of possession of all collected evidence. Remember, without the victim's willingness and ability to cooperate and the collection of the proper evidence, apprehension and conviction are just illusions.

RAPE EVIDENCE COLLECTION KIT

A rape evidence collection kit should be available to medical personnel when the victim is examined. This kit should include:

a. One plastic speculum
b. Two packs of sterile swabs
c. One test tube with screw on top with swabs
d. Two glass slides
e. Two envelopes for hair combings
f. One plastic comb

Store all clothing in paper bags.

FORCIBLE RAPE

During 1976 the Police Information Network collected supplementary information about the offense of rape. During this period there were 600 actual rapes reported as well as an additional 207 attempted rapes. The following preliminary statistics have been compiled on 560 of the actual rapes and 189 attempts in various categories in an effort to provide criminal justice agencies with more insight into the offense of rape.

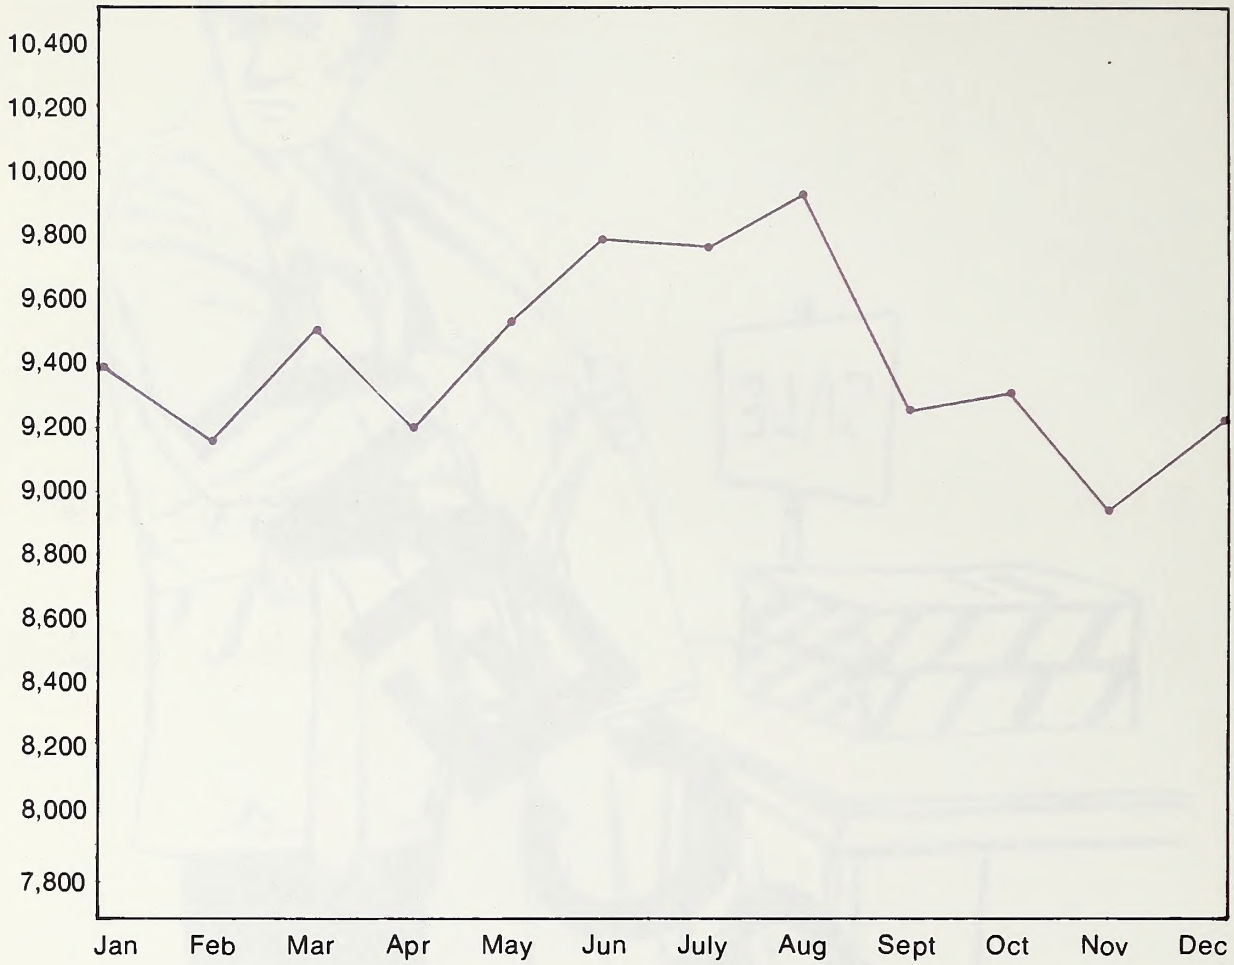
LARCENY

LARCENY



Larceny-theft is the unlawful taking or stealing of property or articles of value without the use of force, violence, or fraud.

During 1976 113,245 offenses of larceny were committed. The offense of larceny comprised 61 percent of the property crimes. The average value of property stolen in each larceny was $188.00. The dollar loss to victims was in excess of twenty-one million dollars.

A major portion of these thefts, 44.57 percent represented thefts of motor vehicle parts and accessories and other thefts from motor vehicles. Thefts from buildings accounted for 14.85 percent of the larceny thefts and stolen bicycles amassed 8.57 percent of the total number of larcenies.

The nature of larceny, a crime of opportunity and sneak thievery, and petty unobserved larceny, makes it an extremely difficult offense for law enforcement officers to solve. In 1976, 21.26 percent of larceny offenses brought to law enforcement's attention were cleared or solved by arrest.

Crimes against persons include murder, rape, and aggravated assault. Crime against property include robbery, burglary, larceny and motor vehicle theft. Supplemental data relating to these property crimes is collected and analyzed on a monthly basis. The resulting figures provide information concerning the value of property stolen and recovered, the various types of property stolen and the value of property stolen by offense category.

VI
UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING PROGRAM SUMMARY

INDEX CRIME REPORTED BY MONTH

The measure used to indicate the probable extent, fluctuation, and distribution of crime for the State as a whole, geographic divisions, individual municipalities, standard metropolitan statistical areas, etc. is a Crime Index consisting of seven important offenses which are counted as they become known to the law enforcement agencies. Crime classification used in the Index are: murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary-breaking and entering, larceny and motor vehicle theft.

The graph below illustrates the variation in the total number of index crimes reported monthly during 1975.

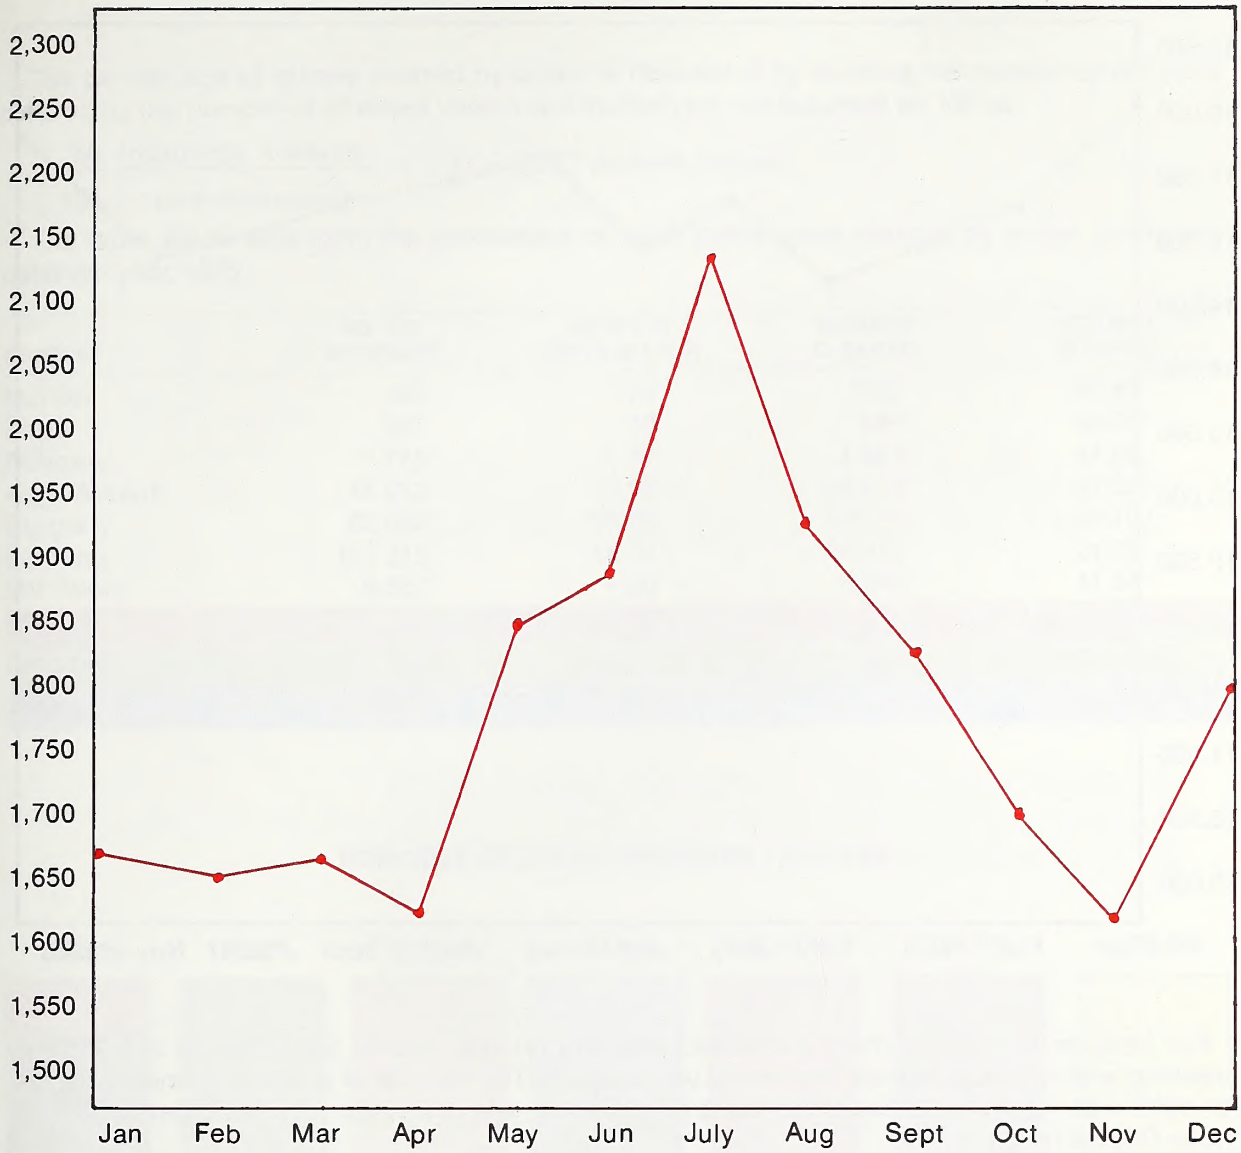
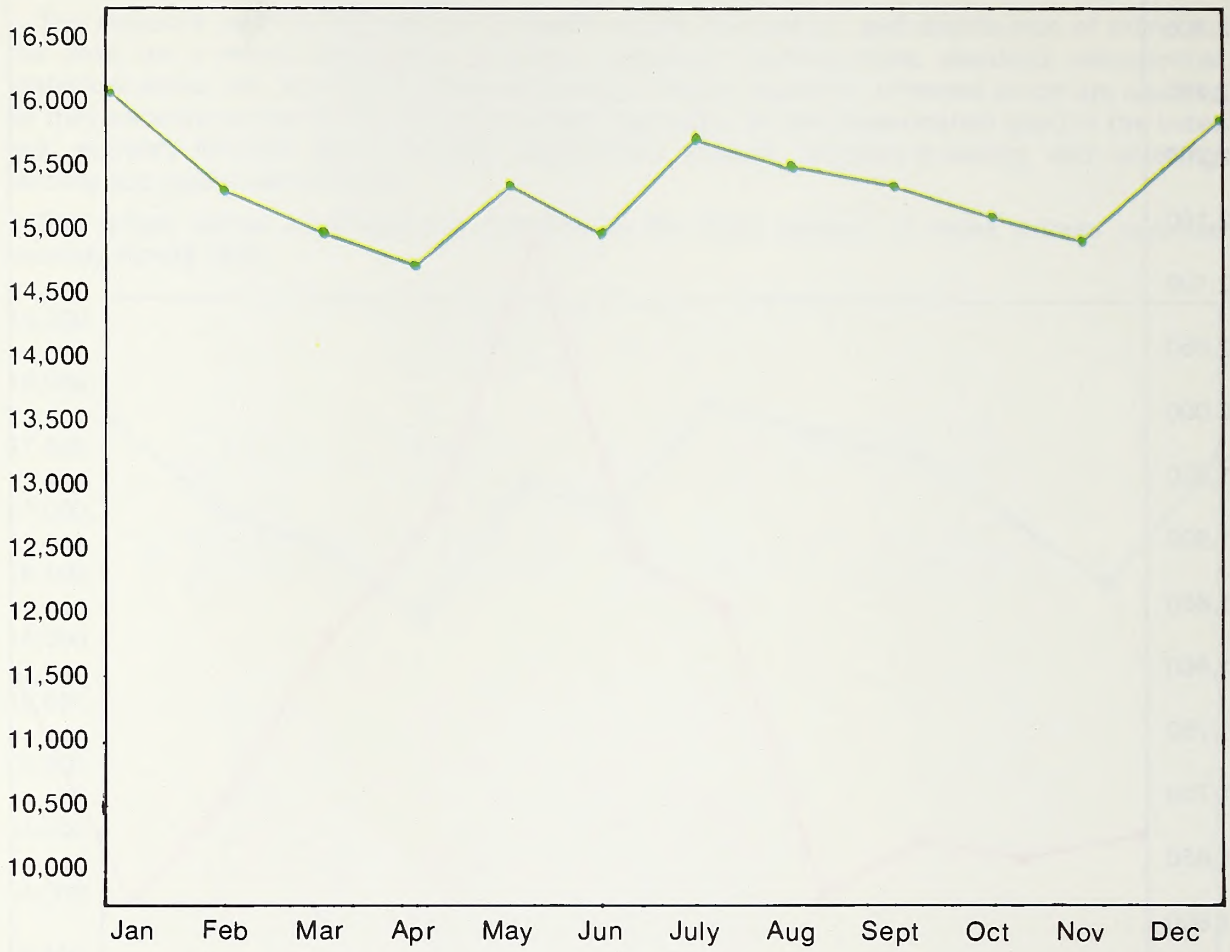
VIOLENT CRIME



Crimes of violence include murder, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault. Violent crimes involve the element of personal confrontation between perpetrator and victim and because of their very nature, are more serious than property crimes. These offenses for the year 1976 made up 10 percent of all reported index crimes.

PROPERTY CRIME



For Uniform Crime Reporting purposes, property crimes include the offenses of burglary-breaking and entering, larceny and motor vehicle theft. The number of property crimes reported for 1976 was nearly nine times the number of violent crimes, amounting to 90 percent of all Index Crimes reported.

1976 Distribution and Clearance Rates For Index Offenses

The percentage of crimes cleared by arrest is obtainable by dividing the number of offenses cleared by the number of offenses known and multiplying the resultent by 100 as:

$$\frac{50 \text{ (robberies cleared)}}{153 \text{ (robberies known)}} \times 100 = 32.67 \text{ percent cleared.}$$

The table below sets forth the percentage of each index crime cleared by arrest during the calendar year 1976.

OFFENSE	NO. OF OFFENSES	PERCENT DISTRIBUTION	NUMBER CLEARED	PERCENT CLEARED
Murder	589	.28	535	90.83

CRIME RATE CALCULATION

Uniform Crime Reporting provides law enforcement executives with a yardstick with which to measure local problems but to utilize this administrative tool, the local data must be converted into terms of rates and percentages.

Perhaps the most used of all crime statistics is the crime rate which generally refers to the number of offenses per 100,000 inhabitants. It can be calculated for any municipality regardless of the size and may be arrived at under either of two procedures. One formula would be to divide the number of crimes by the population and to multiply the answer by 100,000.

Another procedure used particularly when crime rates for a number of different offense classes are to be calculated, is the so-called reciprocal method. Assume that a city has 75,000 inhabitants and 127 robberies and 504 burglaries for the year. Divide 100,000 by the number of inhabitants in the city (75,000). The quotient may be considered the reciprocal and multiplied by the number of crimes in each class to obtain the rate per 100,000. The reciprocal in this instance would be 1.33333 and an illustration of the calculation of the crime rates follows:

Crime Class	No. of Crimes		Reciprocal		Crimes 100,000
Robberies	127	–	1.33333	=	169.3
Burglaries	504	×	1.33333	=	672.0

The reciprocal once determined can be used to calculate all rates until a new population figure is available.

CRIME INDEX OFFENSES

Serious crime (index crimes) in North Carolina totaled 206,693 for 1976. This represents an increase of 4.14 percent in reported crimes over 1975. This increase was brought about solely because of the large number of offenses of larceny. Of the seven index crimes, six reflected decrease but the increase in larceny was significant enough to increase the overall volume of reported crime above the level reported in 1975.
